We are a team full of passion and commitment. We are happy to be able to help animals every day. For us, patient care is not just an obligation, it is our mission. Every time we see a smile and gratitude on the faces of our patients' owners, we feel that our work is meaningful and that we love what we do. For us, each patient is not just another case, it is a being that we treat with the utmost care and respect. Joining the LuxVet Group means new opportunities for us, continuation of our mission in an even better organized form. We are confident that thanks to this cooperation we will be able to provide comprehensive veterinary care even more effectively. – says Hanna Bobka, the founder of the facility.
